

Tips for Student Success with Online Learning: Please share these with your child

As a student, what are my opportunities as part of an online learning community?

- Check online teacher classroom for supplemental assignments and resources regularly.
- Pay attention to possible check-ins offered by your teachers.
- Put in your best effort and reach out to collaborate with your peers when applicable.
- Self-advocate. Reach out to teachers, counselors, family members, and peers when you need any help for any reason.

As a student, how can I stay organized?

- Map out your suggested schedule for the week, considering the supplemental learning suggested for you, your teachers' check-ins, independent study and reading time, and any collaborative time with group members.
- Start your Remote Learning Day early. Waiting until the late afternoon or evening to engage in your supplemental learning may add unnecessary stress and create missed opportunities for collaboration and feedback.
- Divide supplemental learning activities into smaller chunks of time. Take short breaks to increase focus and stay motivated to complete tasks on time.
- When you are completing work remotely, reduce distractions.

As a student, how do I stay connected?

- Ask your teachers questions! Use email and the Canvas inbox.
- Reply regularly to your classmates' products and course discussion boards, if that is provided for you.
- Use feedback on your products to revise your thinking and guide further learning.
- When possible, check in live, online rather than always sending a chat, text or email. Human connection is important!

Consider breaking your day into chunks:

8:00-8:15	Breakfast
8:15-8:45	Check online teacher classrooms for all classes. Check your agenda, get organized for the day/for the week.
8:45-10:00	School Work. Work on assignments.
10:00-10:15	Break
10:15-11:30	School Work. Work on assignments.
11:30-12:30	Lunch and break.
12:30-2:15	School Work. Work on assignments, connect with teachers, and ask any questions, follow up, etc.

How can Parents Assist Their Child?

- Please monitor your child at home. Teachers will be checking in with students but please reach out to the teacher, counselor, or a member of the administrative team if support is needed. Teachers will communicate weekly with the admin team and counselor of students who do not seem to be working or who are presenting with particular challenges.
- Monitor grades and work in Power School.
- Ask your child to show you the online teacher platform where you can see the assignments and their work.
