 - Solution: re-emphasize dress code at the start of the spring semester, with a focus on the shoulder rule

Powder Puff Game

- Date voted for the game: April 11

Chromebook Rollout

- Schools have been approved to have flexibility over the distribution of ChromeBooks.
- Whatever decision we make, we need data to support the decision.
 - Especially if we elect to distribute on a needs-based system.
 - Our teacher survey about forms returned is one type of data.
- There is a potential survey to give to all students to gather data about preference and need for at-home technology.
- Data is needed to support whatever decision we make.
